Help Grow Our Chapter

Please invite someone with an interest in aviation to our meetings.

They do not have to be a builder or Pilot.

Summer Flying
Please remember that as Summer approaches that Density altitude must be Taken in to consideration
When you are doing your Performance calculations.

Safe Flying

Please send in articles and project updates so that our other member know what you have been up to.

The Chapter has a member directory that is for our members. If we do not have your picture and information. Please send to Eric Carnahan at vamustang1@wildblue.net.

We would like your name, spouse's name address and phone number. If you are working on a project or not. The information is for our members only and if you do not wish your phone or address included that alright.

Please just send a picture and your name.

Anyone interested in writing an article for the newsletter please send to my email before the 1st of the Month. I hope to publish the newsletter at least a week before our chapter meeting.

News From Headquarters

July 5, 2018 - For the first time in North America, a drone light show will be part of an air show when EAA AirVenture Oshkosh 2018 presents up to 100 lighted drones in flight during night air shows on July 25 and 28, creating another only-in-Oshkosh experience.

The night air shows at AirVenture have become a favorite of Oshkosh attendees, featuring a new perspective on the precise flying skills displayed by aerobatic pilots.

Great Lakes Drone Company, based in Watervliet, Michigan, will be flying the drones and is one of just two U.S. companies authorized by the FAA for such displays.

Camping at OSHKOSH

July 5, 2018 - Whether you're camping underneath the wing of your airplane or among the thousands of Camp Scholler residents during EAA AirVenture Oshkosh 2018, there are a few things you need to know prior to heading to Oshkosh. With the assistance of Jack Fleetwood, EAA 694416, and Jim Buxton, EAA 332590, here are some tips to consider when planning your camping stay at AirVenture.
